Without our numerous partnerships, Isaiah House simply could not do the work we do. Thanks to the organizations below, as well as the numerous donors who supply financial support at all levels, we are able to continue to offer real hope for addiction.

Our Partners

Isaiah House operates several companies that provide services to the communities where we live, as well as providing job skills for our clients. The organizations below are all branches of Isaiah House that help us serve the communities that support us.
Isaiah House Treatment Center is a residential, intensive outpatient and outpatient treatment program with a Gold Standard of care. We are nationally accredited by Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF), and dual-licensed with the state of Kentucky as an Alcohol and Other Drug Entity (AODE), as well as a Behavioral Health Service Organization (BHSO). Isaiah House is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.
Dear Friend,

As a person in recovery, I am used to diving into the deep end. Thrill seeking, I think, is an innate trait of addicts. End of year is always a time that points to reflection of where you were and where you are, as well as where you want to be. Tammy and I are reminded of the saying, “He who aims at nothing is sure to hit it.” Having said that, we try to keep our goals ever before us to ensure that we are tracking to end where we wanted to end, and not a mile away from our beginning goals. One thing that is clear, and that’s God is here.

In 1999, Tammy and I began on a journey of faith in a God whom we had just met, and over the years, we have found that He is faithful. From opening our home to the homeless in 1999 to being one of Kentucky’s largest holistic treatment centers with more than 210 employees - 70 percent of whom are alumni or family - just 20 years later.

From housing 17 in 1999 to now housing more than 200 clients in one form or another in one of our treatment modalities, we look back and see the pastors, worship leaders, professors, business owners, husbands, wives, fathers and mothers that God raised up and restored through this program and stand amazed.

The drug epidemic is real. Thousands are losing their battle to the plague daily. We know of a grandmother in a local county who has lost all three of her grandsons, so a generation has been forever lost. Just recently, on a Friday, we fielded 63 phone calls for a bed. We normally generate 30-40 calls every day.

Our motto is “Real Hope for Addiction.” Addiction is truly hopeless, and we at Isaiah House feel it is incumbent upon us to do three things.

1. Instill hope
2. Provide a space to develop purpose
3. Establish opportunities to be utilized in that purpose.

With free onsite college courses available to all our clients, and up to 12 transferable credits to onsite welding classes; from onsite job training to guaranteed full-time employment to all of our clients; from 30 master degreed, licensed medical and clinical staff to a host of ancillary targeted case management and peer support, we strive to provide the best possible chance to our clients, who are often your loved ones, the best potential for a full and complete recovery.

This August will be the 20th anniversary of Tammy and I having the privilege of founding this life-breathing company. Thousands have been positively impacted by it, and it is our goal to see thousands more. It would not be possible without the generosity of you and those like you. In the 3rd quarter of 2018, the clients we put back to work generated tax collection of $168,000 into the system just that quarter alone. This does not take into account the moneys it saved by them not being on food stamps and Medicaid any longer.

This is a ministry that works, and only 10 percent of our revenues needed are donations. The rest we raise from our labors, i.e. the companies we incubate whose profits pour back into supplying long-term residential beds to those who cannot afford it. However, that 10 percent in donations is vital. We are willing to go and do what few are willing to do. We are impactful and effective at what we do, we just need a little help from our friends. One hundred percent of all donations go to the direct care of the people we serve, with none of those funds going to salaries, interest or mortgages.

We do this for our families, our neighbors and our friends. Will you please help us? Tammy and I greatly appreciate you and thank you. We pray God’s blessings and best to you and yours.

Sincerely,
Mark LaPalme, CEO and founder
Our mission

The mission of Isaiah House is to provide holistic substance abuse treatment aimed at helping recovering addicts achieve sobriety for a lifetime. We provide a comprehensive program that helps our clients face and deal with the consequences of addiction to focusing on solutions that prevent relapse and lead to a productive, meaningful life.
Beaten down, broken, hopeless, homeless, and tired! That was me until Feb.14, 2013. On that day I walked into the Isaiah House and began a new life, one free of the chains that had bound me for so long. I had lost it all - my wife, kids, family, job, and my freedom. But by God's grace I was given one more chance, and Isaiah House was put in my path. After 27 years of addiction, 14 arrests, 60 months in prison or jail, two overdoses, and countless days of pain and misery for both me and all my family, I was finally free.

One of the first bible verses that I was taught while at Isaiah House, was Jeremiah 29:11. Well, that is exactly why the Lord put me at Isaiah House, because it gave me hope and a future! But most of all it gave me the opportunity to build a relationship with my Lord and savior, Jesus Christ. I began to believe in him, and as a result began to believe in myself again. Some people say, “Once an addict always an addict”, but that is not true. I may always be in recovery, but I am no longer an addict and will not label myself as such. If you want to label me, here is my label: I am more than a conqueror, a saint, I am a child of God and a true believer in Jesus Christ! So while I am truly thankful for the Isaiah House and their staff, I give all the glory to my Lord and savior, Jesus Christ!

Ed Early is now outside operations supervisor for Isaiah House, managing the Clean Cut Pressure Washing and Lawn Care company and overseeing clients who work for the company.

659 Admissions
Isaiah House saw 659 admissions in 2018, up 68% from 2017 (451).

324 Completions
324 clients completed a residential treatment plan in 2018.

2,100 Helping Families
More than 2,100 spouses and children were positively impacted in 2018 by Isaiah House.

75% Staying Sober
Isaiah House clients stay sober, with 75% being sober 60 days after completing our program.
Stronger Communities

For even the son of man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.

Mark 10:45 (NIV)

Education
Our clients increase their education at Isaiah House. If they do not possess a GED, they are required to earn one. In addition, our partnership with Campbellsville University helped 42 clients earn free college credits in 2018.

$168K
Funding Communities
In the third quarter of 2018, our clients paid in $168,000 to various governments in taxes, and nearly $670,000 per year.

126 Employees
We help clients become productive members of a community, with 126 current and former clients remaining a part of Isaiah House. Of those, 40 work in area factories, while 86 are employed by Isaiah House directly.

Four years ago I found myself in the darkest place imaginable; full blown drug addiction. After a failed suicide attempt, which was a wake-up call, I was ready to tell my family the truth. I had or was losing everything- my wife, kids, family, job, and my life. I had destroyed every aspect of my life, including my family's life. When I finally asked for help, my family found the Isaiah House.

I came there completely broken, with no idea what to expect but, willing to do whatever it takes. Through the 8 month program I have learned many tools for recovery with the most important aspect being, putting God first. Now, with almost 2 years clean, my wife and I both work for the Isaiah House and I am involved with their peer support program. They have done so much to help me and my family. They helped with housing, employment, and most of all loving support. We are to the point to where we are trying to purchase our first house together. God is good! Thanks to what I've learned through their program we have our life back with God's promise of a better future.

Johnny Hackworth

Johnny Hackworth is an aftercare supervisor for Isaiah House. He was recently promoted to the position after serving as a peer support specialist.

In the past two years, Isaiah House has served clients from 94 of Kentucky’s 120 counties. At left are the top 25 counties served.
Chaplin campus opens

Isaiah House officially opened our Chaplin campus in October, with several dignitaries on hand, including Kentucky Gov. Matt Bevin and Attorney General Andy Beshear. The new facility is made up of the Jake Kuertz Center and the Greg Bowen Center. Each is a 16-bed facility that provides 28-day treatment to clients.

Howard’s Metal Sales purchased

Howard’s Metal Sales was operated by Charles and Donna Howard since 1984. As of Dec. 14, 2018, Isaiah House took over operation of the business as the sale from the Howard family was completed. Charles and Donna, as well as their long-time staff members, will continue to be involved in the operation. Howard’s Metal Sales will not only be a business operated by Isaiah House, but it is another employment opportunity for our clients.
While at Isaiah House, our clients are presented the gospel of Jesus Christ. They are given the opportunity to learn about what God has done for them, and about his plans for their lives after recovery.

In 2018, Isaiah House had more than 200 clients who accepted Jesus as their personal savior and were baptized.
New Creations

Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come. The old has gone, the new is here!

2 Corinthians 5:17 (NIV)

Jason Roop
Jason is a graduate of Isaiah House who now serves as senior pastor of Asbury Church in Campbellsville, Ky.

Jeff Goins
Jeff is a former client who graduated and now works in the public relations department at Isaiah House.

Jacob and Melissa Howard
Jacob came to Isaiah House struggling with an addiction to heroin and meth. Melissa also faced a heroin addiction. Their family has been restored, and today, he serves as case management supervisor and she serves as human resources supervisor at Isaiah House.
Giving Back

In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work we must help the weak, remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said: “It is more blessed to give than to receive.”

Acts 20:35 (NIV)

In 2017, statistics show that 1,565 people died as a result of a drug overdose in Kentucky. That’s nearly five people every day of the year. Almost everyone knows someone who has been affected by addiction, and in some way, all of us can help provide hope.

We all have some level of talent, time and treasure, and we ask that you prayerfully consider sharing some portion of any or all of these with those we serve at Isaiah House. Although Medicaid and insurance pay for some treatment components such as counseling, private donations are needed to offer the additional services that give recovering addicts their best chance of staying sober for a lifetime. Your contributions support job training, family support and education, GED and college classes onsite, discipleship and community service, nutrition and healthy lifestyle education and other vital activities that directly impact the long-term sobriety of our clients. Please consider how you can help us continue to meet the growing need of those in the battle against addiction and give as God has blessed you.
How to Give

All gifts to Isaiah House are greatly appreciated, and we want to make giving as easy as possible. There are a few ways to make your tax-deductible gift, and they are listed below.

Visit our website or our Facebook page and click on the “donate” button in the top right portion of either page. That will direct you to provide your gift electronically.

Gifts can be mailed directly to our physical address.
